

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. The current law has significantly reduced the number of sales calls that I have received at my home. If anything, you should toughen the protections to include solicitations as well as sales pitches.